LIVE WARSHIP RUSHED TO MEXICO

Hurry Orders for the Nashville Now at Charlestown Navy Yard.

TO SAIL WITHIN 12 HOURS

Sealed orders were received today at the Charlestown Navy Yard to hurry the gunboat Nashville to Mexican waters. The Nashville has a crew of eight officers and 350 sailors, and is equipped with eight guns. She is a shallow water craft. Louis N. Nelson, formerly on duty at the War College at Newport, has been placed in command of the ship. The Nashville arrived in Boston Harbor today from the Portsmouth Navy Yard. She is already supplied with coal and provisions for a three months' cruise. Ammunition will be loaded into the ship's magazine today and she will leave for Mexican waters tonight or tomorrow.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 20.—The following story of how President Huerta sent an "ultimatum" to the United States Embassy Monday night, demanding immediate recognition of Mexico by the United States, was told today for the first time.

President Huerta in replying to the note from President Wilson offering suggestions for the pacification of Mexico, selected all President Wilson's proposals, as "ultimatum" to the United States.

W. M. Wood, Jr., Fails to Appear in Court

Mother Promises to Have Him on Hand Later; Second Auto Charge.

William M. Wood, Jr., son of William M. Wood, millionaire president of the American Woolen Company, failed to appear in Salem Court today to answer to a charge of exceeding the speed limit and also for recklessly driving an automobile. His mother sent a letter of excuse to the court saying the young man was touring Maine in an automobile, but said she would surely have him appear before the court next week. The court put the case over for one week.

Young Wood was arrested by Chief Sullivan of Manchester.

This is the second time within a few days Wood has been in trouble over his automobile. In the other case the judge fined the case. Wood was allowed to go.

Fish Missing When Auto Case Is Called

Warrant Issued for Former Harvard Football Captain.

Hamilton Fish, captain of the Harvard football team of 1911, failed to answer to his name today when it was called in Salem Court to answer to a charge of exceeding an automobile faster than the law allows and also for the reckless driving of an automobile, and was defaulted. A warrant for his arrest was issued.

Young Fish is another one of the victims to fall under the eyes of Chief Sullivan of Manchester, who has started a crusade against auto speeders in his district, especially by the rich young society men.

Timilty at Capital to "See His Boy"

Betting is Even, Though, That He Is Booming Curly for P. O. Place.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—State Senator James P. Timilty of Massachusetts arrived at the Capitol today and another round in the main fight for the superintendency of delivery at the Boston postoffice may be expected.

While the Postoffice Senator declares he is here only to see his son, who is a page at the Capitol, betting is even that he will call upon Postmaster-General Burson on behalf of William F. Curley, the candidate for the place.

M'Loughlin-Bundy Retain Tennis Title

Defeat Strachan and Griffin, Challengers, in Straight Sets.

NEWPORT, Aug. 20.—Mauree B. M'Loughlin and T. C. Bundy of California, national doubles tennis champions, retained their title today by defeating J. R. Strachan and C. J. Griffin, also of California, in straight sets, 6-4, 7-5, 6-1.

The champions opened up in brilliant style and showed all their old speed in the first set, which they won despite decided opposition. In the second set the challengers made considerable improvement, but were forced to defeat after bringing the set to a draw.

The first set was a walkover for the titlist, their younger rivals showing the strain of the previous two hard matches. The game was played on the championship court and witnessed by a large gallery.

Norwood Police Convinced Mrs. LeMaire Met Death After Struggle.

AWAIT WHITNEY REPORT

Convinced that Mrs. Marie LeMaire, the maid, who was found dead in her apartment in Snow Block, Norwood, died after a desperate struggle with her supposed slayer, the Norwood police today adopted a different course in their investigation of the mysterious tragedy.

Evidence of a death struggle in the room in which her body was found is further strengthened by other persons in the block who told the police they heard sounds of a struggle in the maid's apartment shortly before she died.

Chief of Police Lavers said Mrs. LeMaire's clothing showed signs of a struggle. The police concluded she had been killed by her assailant.

Whitney May Report Today.

The officials have withheld the latest developments in the case, pending the report of Professor Whitney of Harvard on the contents of the stomach and his analysis of the pills found near the body. This report may come today.

The fact Mrs. LeMaire battled for her life was brought out at a conference of Chief Lavers, Assistant District Attorney Kesteven of Plymouth County and Assistant Medical Examiner Poirer.

Two women and Mrs. LeMaire's two children are also said to have been present.

All three men were present in discussing the matter, but from their manner the authorities were more than ever dissatisfied to accept the theory of suicide.

Assistant District Attorney Kesteven declared that nothing definite could be said until he and Dr. Pratt had received a report from Professor Whitney as to the condition of the viscera and the nature of the poison that caused death.

Auto Ride Explained.

Certain circumstances connected with an automobile ride the woman took a week ago Tuesday evening, the evening prior to the last day she was seen alive, have been made clear. The police traced Mrs. LeMaire to an unidentified man over the road from Norwood to Foxboro.

The machine had a Rhode Island registration number and as yet the police have been unable to learn who the car was.

They discovered, however, that Mrs. LeMaire left her car in Foxboro and returned to Norwood by trolley.

Mrs. Lena Ryan of Milford street has begun to serve a six months' sentence at the State Farm—which she accepted rather than testify against her husband when she was brought before Judge Cohen in the Municipal Court by Special Officer Patrick Grant.

The officer Grant told Judge Cohen that the man, he believed, was fully aware of the woman's actions, and was in part responsible. But the woman said: "I'll go to jail before I say a word against Leola."

Leather Merchant in Auto Accident

Edwin Morse Thrown from Machine at North Weymouth and Badly Hurt.

Edwin Morse, leather merchant, at No. 48 South street, was thrown from his automobile and seriously hurt in North Weymouth today. He was taken unconscious back to his home on the corner of North Cliff.

Mr. Morse was driving his runabout to Boston from the bridge street shop. North Weymouth, he returned suddenly into the trolley tracks to give a car ahead room to pass. The front wheels of his runabout caught in a guard rail. The car stalled and Mr. Morse was hurled out, landing on his head.

The driver of the other car, a heavy machine owned by Keith & Merrill, Quincy road estate dealers, took Mr. Morse to his home.

The Boston Directory lists the name of Edwin Morse, leather, 48 South street at Milford.

REPORT PRISONER HAS TICKET, WHICH MAY WIN FREEDOM

DOCTOR SAYS THAW IS SANE.

SHERBROOKE, P. Q., Aug. 20.—Dr. F. J. Thompson examined Thaw today and gave out the following:

There is nothing the matter with Thaw physically. He is in fine shape and does not show any signs of his confinement. He appeared to me very rational. His manner gives one very good impression. I think he could prove himself sane, in Canada at least.

SHERBROOKE, Que., Aug. 20.—Harry K. Thaw, the fugitive slayer of Stanford White, won a preliminary skirmish today in his fight for freedom when his lawyer, W. L. Shurtliff, had the arguments on the application for a writ of habeas corpus postponed until tomorrow by Judge Globensky of the Superior Court. At noon a petition was presented to Judge Globensky asking for the discharge of Thaw from custody.

SHERBROOKE, P. Q., Aug. 20.—One of Thaw's attorneys has just assured your correspondent that Thaw has a through ticket. He would not say whether it was a ticket to Detroit, as Thaw claimed he had in an interview last night, or whether it was steamer passage to France. Thaw has declared that he intends to go to France upon securing his release, there to stay until he gets rested when he will return to Pittsburgh to live.

POINTS TO JACK JOHNSON PRECEDENT.

The announcement that Thaw has a through ticket is construed to mean that Thaw's attorneys seek to have the Jack Johnson privilege applied—that he may pass through Canada to his destination.

However, there is no certainty that this argument will be used, certainly until the writ of habeas corpus is denied. Thaw's counsel now consists of W. L. Shurtliff, C. C. H. Fraser and Charles D. White. There is said to be some discrepancy among the trio. White was engaged by Thaw at the suggestion of his sister, Mrs. George Lauder Carnegie.

Governor La Force (they call him "Governor") in Canada received a telegram this morning from Sheriff Hombach and District Attorney Cough of Dutchess County, New York, stating that he expected to arrive in Sherbrooke at noon today.

Dr. J. E. Noel the jail physician, visited Thaw in his cell this morning. He came at Thaw's request.

As he left he said to your correspondent: "Harry feels fine and is sanguine that he will be a free man tomorrow morning."

Dr. Noel gave Thaw a narcotic last night to enable him to sleep. Thaw was quite cheerful early today, chatting with his barber in French and English and exhibiting a sense of humor.

"The opera that was being sung the night he killed Stanford White on the roof of Madison Square Garden."

Later in the morning, however, he was depressed.

TERN WINS FOURTH SONDER

RACE TRIAL

MARBLEDHEAD, Aug. 20.—The Tern N. M. Sears, was the winner of the fourth race in the sander trial for the cream cup team here today. This is the first race won by the Sears boat, and rather changes the complexion of affairs as had either the Ellen or the Harpoon taken the race, another member of the team would have been thereby determined.

As matters stand now the Sprig is the only boat as yet named by the executive committee.

The race today was by far the best of

The series A strong southerly wind made perfect racing conditions. The course was triangular and all four boats crossed the line with spinners set.

The Tern took a slight lead as the first turn and held it all the way. The Hawk was second, followed by the China, which had even a slight margin on the Elbow. The Harpoon was fourth, a couple of seconds back of the Elbow.

Another race will be held late afternoon probably over the same course.

The race today started at 11:10 and finished at 12:04:04, the winners, Hawk, gained 54.04. The Zim's time was 54:15.

Lieut.- Gov. Glynn's Duty in a Trying Position

Acting Governor Glynn of New York has shown coolness and good judgment thus far in the very delicate position in which he is placed by the impeachment of Governor Sulzer.

Tact and common sense are needed to avoid violence and the Government of the State of New York should be carried on without violence if possible, provided the public interests do not suffer.

The Board of Trustees, of which the Governor, Lieutenant-Governor and the Speaker of the Assembly or the Comptroller are joint members, can transact most public business by a quorum—that is, when a majority of the members are present—and only common sense is needed to carry on the ordinary business of the State, whether or not Mr. Sulzer is recognized as Governor.

Acting Governor Glynn must, of course, be ready at all times to perform any of the duties that devolve upon him. But it would be a mistake for him to ally himself in any way with Tammany Hall, or to serve "Boss" Murphy, or to co-operate with those who are seeking to punish Mr. Sulzer, not for his offenses, but simply because he fought Murphy.

In so far as Governor Sulzer honestly opposed Mr. Murphy, he deserved public support and confidence. And the undeserved but unmistakable sympathy with him now in his fall by his own wrong-doing is due to widespread feeling that his exposure and ruin are due less to the high crimes and misdemeanors with which he is charged than to the vindictive hatred of the followers of Mr. Murphy.

A man cannot serve two masters. Mr. Sulzer tried first to sacrifice the public interests to serve Murphy, and then to sacrifice Murphy to save himself and his party. If he had been faithful to Murphy, his private wrong-doing would never have been exposed. But he was faithless to his own honor and so even his friends can not defend him.

But the manner of his undoing is undoubtedly widely resented. "Though evil may come in the world, we to him thro' whom it comes" is a sentiment as old and true as the Bible.

We feel sure from our knowledge of Mr. Glynn that he will not act in concert with those through whom this evil has come. He should be strictly judicial, holding aloof from both the accused and the accusers. Sympathy with Sulzer would be more suitable than sympathy with Murphy.

He has held high office with honor and when his opportunity comes we believe his service will be a credit to himself and a benefit to his State.

To Our Friends Who Possess Theories of Importance

We Are Sorry That Often We Cannot Give Them The Hearing to Which They Are Entitled

Copyright, 1913, by The Best Company.

An intelligent reader wishes to describe and to discuss in person with the editor of this newspaper his ideas as to "The Labor Cost of Living."

He says truly that the problem of the day is "Labor and Its Compensation." But we cannot, unfortunately, discuss with our readers in person the ideas which they develop. The answer which we have sent to the reader mentioned is one that we would send to the thousands who are good enough to submit individual plans for the solving of world problems, and to suggest personal discussion of such plans.

This letter answers many that are received every day.

My Dear Sir—We regret that it is impossible for the editor of this newspaper to read all of the interesting manuscripts addressed to this office.

It is impossible also to make personal appointments for the discussion of important public questions with all of the readers who are good enough to suggest such appointments.

There is no doubt whatever that the great problem of this day is, as you say, the question of labor's compensation. That has been the great problem for thousands of years.

Labor, which has been the best running or the least able part of the population, has always got as little as superior intelligence could persuade or compel it to accept.

We do not believe that any system can change this except the

Our readers who write so often and interestingly on public questions, and who may have been affronted by their failure to receive an adequate reply, are asked to take into consideration the fact that thousands of letters come to this office every week, and that to answer them individually is impossible.

Following is in part the interesting letter from one of our readers to which the above is a reply:

Editor BOSTON AMERICAN:

Dear Sir—I wish to thank you for the suggestion that I might write to you concerning the matter which interests me, and I beg to assure you that I appreciate the privilege for I am well aware that men in your position are beset with communications from all sorts of people with all sorts of schemes.

I am hoping you will find mine sufficiently differentiated from the rest to merit your careful consideration.

I have endeavored to find an opportunity to see you in person and attempt to express some of my ideas. To me it seems that the plan proposed strikes at the root of the great problem now pressing for solution, viz., the problem of labor and its compensation.

The proposition in its present form is an evolution from a conception (of some years ago) of a co-operating community, one which could make use of the advantages of co-operative production and at the same time be subject to the form of management which has proven so uniformly successful in the competitive system.

I believed that such a plan could be worked out, whereby conditions of life might be bettered for many workers individually.

It seems to me inevitable that the great inequalities which exist in the world today must lead to a revolution, if we do not awake to the fact and bring about, in its stead, a peaceful revolution.

It does not require a great stretch of the imagination to see

For Success, Health, Happiness, Look Within!—Why Wait for Somebody Else to Bring Us These Things? Don't Be a Spiritual Loafer; Pray Often, but Work, First, Last and Always.

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

Copyright, 1913, by Best Company.

On retiring at night, just before going off to sleep, say either mentally or orally as you choose:

I am health, strength, peace, happiness and prosperity and everything that goes to make for good.

Pure, good, rich blood is flowing through my body, removing all obstructions and bringing peace, health and harmony.

I am well and strong and vital. I am beautiful, pure and good. I am on the road to eternal youth.

I am opulent, happy and free. Last, but not least:

I will arise with unusual energy and radiance and power of accomplishment in the morning.

All I ask is that you do not try to dictate the way these things shall or may come, and I will guarantee them to cure anything from poverty to rheumatism.—Dr. James W. Cormany, Mount Carroll, Ill.

Let every reader of this column take with seriousness these emphatic statements of Dr. Cormany, and put them to the test.

Nothing Is the Matter with the World, Life or Destiny.

There is nothing the matter with the world, with life, with destiny. Everything we desire or want or need waits for our claiming.

But the majority of God's children are waiting for SOMEBODY BESIDES THEMSELVES to bring them these things.

Not more than one human being in one thousand looks to HIMSELF and the Power back of himself for success, health and happiness.

The other 999 look to luck; to chance; to influence; to favors of friends and acquaintances; to doctors; to patent medicines; to some hoped-for miracle, and all the time a mine of wealth and reservoir of power within themselves lies unexplored and unused.

If you have a garden and reservoir of water, which is fed from an inexhaustible mountain spring, and you spend hours in prayer to God for rain to water your garden, do not feel that God has been unkind if in a season of drought your plants wither and die.

It is your own fault that you did not USE THE WATER IN THE RESERVOIR.

Prayer is a great force; it puts our highest mental and moral powers in touch with the whole magnificent universe, and with the clouds of witnesses and the hosts of ministering angels, who are waiting to do the Father's bidding on earth; and the Father's bidding is eternal usefulness to humanity.

These invisible Helpers are ever ready to HELP US HELP OURSELVES.

But they would not answer our prayers for rain to save our gardens if we did not use the water in the reservoir which had been supplied to us.

An inexhaustible reservoir lies in every soul born upon earth.

The one thing for you to do is to FIPE YOUR MENTAL FACULTIES TO THIS RESERVOIR.

Then follow the instructions which are quoted above. Every time you make these assertions, you are TURNING ON A FADCET.

It is of little use, in a dry, arid season, to turn the water on your garden ONCE A WEEK.

It must be done EVERY DAY.

If you watered your plants once, and then after a month complained how badly they looked, despite your having watered them, that would be as reasonable as the attempts of many people to put metaphysical thoughts into practice.

Every trade, profession, business and art is brought to perfection by PERSISTENT AND UNREMITTING EFFORTS.

The great philosophy of THOUGHT POWER can only be proven and demonstrated by the same unflinching, untiring method.

The little formula given by Dr. Cormany holds the whole philosophy in a nutshell form.

It is a spiritual homeopathic pill. Take one every night on retiring, and after three months you will be astonished at results.

Pray often; fit your heart on high; but WORK FIRST, LAST AND ALWAYS.

Look to Your Own Soul for Light; Don't Be a Spiritual Loafer.

Do not be a spiritual loafer, and expect angels to perform your work with no effort on your part. Do not talk about your methods; and do not ask any one for advice or counsel. Look only to your own soul for light.

GOD'S ANSWER.

Once in a time of trouble and of care

I dreamed I talked with God about my heart;

With sleepless courage, daring to complain

"Or what I deemed ungracious and unfair."

"Lord, I have groveled on my knees in prayer

Hour after hour," I cried; "yet all in vain."

No hand leads up to heights I would attain,

No path is shown me out of my despair."

Then answered God: "Three things I gave to thee—

Clear brain, brave will and strength of mind and heart,

All implements divine to shape the way."

Why shift the burden of the toll on Me?

Till to the utmost he has done his part

With all his might, let no man dare to pray."

A SUGGESTION ABOUT MEXICO

Editor BOSTON AMERICAN: I believe that if 25,000 United States troops were in Mexico to establish a constitutional government there, set for succession, peace without bloodshed would ensue. I say this after considerable acquaintance with Mexico conditions and after having lived on the border.

CITY BOARDERS

By WILLIAM F. KIRK

THE city boarders bully now to hamlet and to lake To sit and gossip on a porch or in a boat to bake.

The natives look them over in a bashful sort of way, And hang on every syllable the city boarders say.

The natives love enlightenment, and now, for many a week They'll hear these pearls of wisdom that the city boarders speak:

"I should worry!"

"What do you mean, you lost your dog?"

"Snoaky Oolums!"

The people in the country would remain in darkness dense Except for city boarders with their vast experience.

The poor, benighted natives have no better school to reach Than listening to wise folk who are more than glad to teach.

The poor, benighted natives! What a great and glorious treat To learn these clever sayings that the city chaps repeat:

"Snoaky Oolums!"

"What do you mean, you lost your dog?"

"I should worry!"
